Authorizing the Second Avenue Railroad Company of New-York to extend their track; to provide for reorganizing the Brooklyn Park Commissioners, authorizing the Brooklyn Common Council to regulate the employment of conductors and drivers of afrect cars in that city; establishing a stage route from the foot of Courtlandt-st. to East Thirty-fourth-st., East River; amending the act relative to the collection of arrears of personal taxes in New-York; amending the Brooklyn Charter; authorizing the Park Presbyterian Church of New-York and the Yorkville Presbyterian Church to unite, and, on motion, the bill was read and passed; amending the act for the further protection of female employés in the City of New-York.

Employes in the City of New-York.

Amending the revised statutes relative to Supervisors preparing lists for Grand Jurors, excepting in New-York and Kings Counties.

Mr. FLAGG moved that the bill placing the Special Sessions Court in New-York under the old law be recommitted to the Committee on Cities.

Mr. MITCHELL inquired at whose request the motion was made.

Mr. MITCHELL inquired at whose request the motion was made.

Mr. BUENS stated he had been requested by several parties in New-York to be heard on this bill.

Mr. MITCHELL stated that the gentleman who had introduced this bill was absent, and he (Mr. Mitchell) had intended to move to lay the bill aside when it came up for a third reading. He then proceeded to denounce the Court as at present organized, and elaimed the bill was a proper one.

Mr. HUSTED opposed the motion to recommit. There had been no undue haste in this matter. The bill had been fully discussed in Committee of the Whole, and had been offered to a third reading.

Mr. WHITE insisted that there were good reasons why the bill should be recommitted.

The SPEAKER called attention to the fact that he found by the number of this bill that it had by some manipolation been made to take precedence over 49 other bills ahead of it.

Mr. FIELD moved the previous question on Mr. Flagg's motion, which was ordered.

Mr. KIERNAN before voting, stated that this bill had.

Mr. Fisld moved the previous question on Mr. Fisggs anotion, which was ordered.

Mr. KIEENAN, before voting, stated that this bill had been reported under an agreement upon it by the New-York delegation, and he regarded the motion as coming with had grace from the gentleman from Rensselaer (Mr. Flagg) in the absence of the gentleman who presented the bill. He thought the proper course to pursue, both as regards etiquette and parliamentary usage, was to lay aside the bill until the gentleman having it directly in charge was present. harge was present.

Mr. Fl.AGG's motion to recommit the bill was carried 51 to 43. The following bills were also passed: To enable the American and Foreign Eible Somety to consolidate with the American Baptist Society; chartering the Ministers' and Ediors' Frotestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Long Island; amending the charter of the New-York City Mission and Tract Society. Rocess. EVENING SESSION.

The House, in Committee, disposed of the lowing bills, as noted: royiding for the election of Canvassers and Inspectors of Elections.

Mr. HITCHMAN (the Speaker) moved as a substitute for the first section, that all officers in New-York, except municipal officers, Judges, etc., shall be elected at the general election in November, and the others at the charter election.

Mr. KIERNAN opposed this amendment, claiming that the bill, as it was, protected the "purity of the ballotcted in the past.

Mr. KIEKNAN said the cat was now out of the bag.

Mr. HITCHMAN said he was willing to give the appointing power to the Judges of the Superior Court or Court of Common Pieas.

Mr. HUSTED said it did him good to hear these confessions of great frauds in the City of New-York by both wings of the Democratic party. But as to the bill, he did not see anything in it which was designed to benefit the Republican party in the least.

Mr. BERGEN spoke at length, denouncing the corruptions in New-York, and attributing them to the Registry Law of 1855, which placed the elective machinery in the hands of a partisan Police Commission.

Mr. WHITE blauned the Judges of New-York for discharging persons arrested as repeaters. As to these Inspectors, it was an important question as to who shall act as Inspectors at the next election. There were now at least sixty of these officers who are filegally acting as Inspectors. But the great trouble was in the Magistrates discharging repeaters after arrest, and before they were got to the Station-House.

In the House, on motion of Mr. KIERNAN, the bill was ordered to a third reading.

The Main-st., Brooklyn, bill was ordered to a third reading. Adjourned.

STABBING AFFRAY IN JERSEY CITY.

Some young roughs from this city yesterday entered a store in Hoboken and rebbed the till of every catered a store in Hoboken and rebbed the till of every cest it contained. They then moved toward Jersey City for the purpose jot committing other robberies. When they had reached Long Dock, they fell in with a number of Jersey City boys. These they tried to induce to join them in their depredations, and to point out favorable piaces. The Jersey City boys refused to join with them. A fight ensued, during which, it is alleged, Matthew Brennan drew a knife and stabbed one of the Jersey City boys, Charles Coon, in the arm. Brennan James Nolau, John Dooner, John Blake, and John Shannahan, Vete arrested and locked up.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

THE HON. HENRY L. DAWES INVITED, TO CAN-VASS THE STATE BY THE REPUBLICANS. Washington, Feb. 15 .- The following correspondence has just taken place:

The Hon. Henry L. Dawes: The Republicans of New-Hampshire unanimously favor rigid economy and sustain the Administration of President Grant. Your late speeches have been construed by Copperheads and pretended Labor Reformers into attacks upon the Administration and Republican party, and they say you will refuse to speak for the Republican cause in New Hampshire Being assured of your devotion to the Republican party and National Administration, as we are of your intention to reduce the appropriations and enforce economy, in behalf of the Republican State Committee. I have to carnestly request you to visit and cauvass New-Hampshire before the March election.

REFLY OF MR. DAWES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15, 1870.

Hon. E. H. ROLLINS, Chairman Republican State Committee: I have received your dispatch, and also a like request from the New-Hampshire Congressional delegation. If it was possible for me to leave Washington I would immediately canvas New-Hampshire for the Republican cause and candidates. I will make arrangements to speak in the State before the election. Economy and reform can be secured only by keeping in power the Republican party. The President and Congress will unite in diminishing expenditure and taxes, while maintaining the public high and reducing the national debt; and the labor reform movement which strives to defeat the Republican party will only injure the interests of the laboring classes and tend to place in power their worst enemies. I hope you will elect Gov. Stearns by the people and secure your usual Radical Republican majority in the Legislature.

H. L. DAWES.

THE LABOR REFORM PARTY.

CONCORD, Feb. 15 .- The Labor Reform party held the first campaign meeting to-night, at Eagle Hall The hall was densely filled. The Concord brigade band was in attendance. The meeting was called to order by John R. Watson of Concord. Samuel Flint, the cand date for Governor, was then introduced, and addressed the meeting. The following is an abstract of his speech:

"When he accepted the nomination, he expected the air to be full of lies. He denied his connection with the Massachusetts Labor Reform League, as has been charged. He alluded to the position of Horace Greeley, that 'capital is productive.' He did not deny that capital, in some of its forms, is productive. The farmer has it is his farm, flocks, and herds, and they may be productive capital. He said, however, that money produces nothing; on that he took his position, and he intended to fight it out on that line. He continued: It may be asked if this be true, how do the gich live in luxnry and mercase in wealth without labor themselves? This is the great question that underlies this whole movement. We intend to show the workingmen and women that they are robbed by law. It seems clear that no man lives without work, unless he lives on the labor of others. Every man must have the necessities of life. These are all produced by labor. Money never raised food or sawed a stick of timber. It does not increase like animals or crops; it is utterly barren. It does sometimes increase in value for the beful of bondholders, to the great disadvantage or utter ruin of the laboring classes. How does a man live on his money is he don't live on it. He has on your labor and mine. Where a man lives entirely on the income from money invested in bonds and stocks, he lives on the labor of others, as much as if he were a pauper in the almostouse. So the workingmen and women in this, and all other countries, are supporting the extremes in society. We give to one the bare necessities of life; to the other, we furnish all the luxuries on earth. It is true the rich pay us for their luxuries, while the payners pay us nothing; but where do they get this money? They do not dig it from the earth, or forge it in shops, unless, indeed, they happen to be forgers. It all comes from your labor and all goes to the slaveholders by force, the date for Governor, was then introduced, and addressed the meeting. The following is an abstract of his speech :

He said that public opinion had changed as to the payment of bonds in gold; but it was said that payment in greenbacks is repudiation. He said: "If we borrow money and offer to pay the same in equal quantity and quality, the same amount in the same currency, is this repudiation! We offer to pay the bonds in this way and some old hound bawls out, 'Repudiation,' and ever little our in the pack yelps in chorus. Let the bond solders beware and not provoke us too far. There is such a thing as repudiation." such a thing as repudiation."

He spoke of the necessity of a new party as follows:
"Our Democratic friends tell us their platform is all that we can desire. Our Republican friends claim more.
They say they have done more for the laboring classes
than any other party that ever existed in the country, and point to the past. We do not speak of the past.
Good deeds in early life will not atone for crimes of riper years. The great question of the day is, What are these parties doing now! They talk well and promise fair, but by their fruits we know them, and we know that both parties are under the control of the bondholders, as the old parties were under the slaveholders. They have deposited 'King Lash,' and crowned 'King Cash.' He is ruling us with a rod of iron. We can't get rid of him by staying in either of the old parties. Workingmen cannot correct abuses in the old parties, because of dissensions and differences on measure or men. They are willing for us to talk of labor reform, if we only vote their ticket, When secondrels and fools get con trol of a party, the only way to reform it is to kill it. When the tree becomes rottent is fit only to be thrown down and cast into the only way to reform it is to kill it. When the tree becomes rotten it is fit only to be thrown down and cast into the fire. This cannot be done as long as you vote the party ticket. You cannot vote for a villain without encouraging his dishonesty. I consider these good and sufficient reasons. If not the only, it is certainly the shortest way to reform. For twelve years past, I have not voted the State

The address was received with considerable applause A letter was received from Alex. Troup of the New-York Labor Reform Association, stating that a similar party would be formed in New-York State.

THE BILL FOR THE RELIEF OF DR. SCHOEPPE PASSED OVER THE GOVERNOR'S VETO. HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—The sessions of each House were unusually interesting to-day. The Senate passed the House bill to require itinerant purchasers and traders in glass, rags, paper, scrap metals, old clothing, and all other refuse matter to be licensed. It also took up the bill vetoed by the Governor, allowing write of error in cases of murder and voluntary manslaughter, intended to apply to Dr. Paul Schoeppe's case, and passed the same over the veto by a vote of 22 to 5. The House refused to consider the bill to create a new county, to be called "Potrolia." The Writ of Error bill was taken up, and, after considerable discussion, was passed over the Governor's veto by a vote of $2$ to $2$, being four over the constitutional majority. The friends of the bill to abolish the death penalty appear to be gaming strength in both Houses. The bill may be taken up to-morrow. The House passed the State Treasurer's bill, after a protracted struggle. The bill as passed requires the State Treasurer to give sureties to the amount of $500,000, increases his salary to $8,000, and provides further that, until a proper freasury is provided by law, all public moneys not required for immediate use shall be put out at the best rate of interest which can be obtained, and no money to be deposited in any one banking institution to a greater amount than one-fourth its capital stock. It allows the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, at certain periods, to pay reasonable premiums on State bonds in proposal form, for the purpose of liquidating the debt, and binds the Treasurer up in such a manner that there appears to be no possible chance for him to make anything above his salary while in the faithful performance of his duty. The weather has been so pleasant for the last two weeks that gardening has commenced Legislature is still in session at Salt Lake.

THE NEW DOMINION.

OPENING OF THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT-

OPENING OF THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT—
SPEECH OF THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.
OTTAWA, Canada, Feb. 15.—To-day at 3 o'clock the Governor-General proceeded in state to the Chamber of the Senate, in Parliament Buildings, and took his seat upon the throne. The members of the Senate being assembled, the Governor ordered the attendance of the House of Commons, and that House being present, he proceeded to open the third session of the first Parliament of the Dominion of Canada with the following speech from the throne:

present, he proceeded to open the third session of the first Parliament of the Dominion of Canada with the following speech from the throne:

Honorable Genilemen of the Senate and Honorable Genilemen of the House of Commons: I recur with confidence to your advice, and have much satisfaction in being able on the present occasion to summon you to the discharge of your public duties at a period of the year most convenient to yourselves. The circumstances under which we meet are in many respects auspicious; the bounty of Providence crowned our harvest with abundance and made the fisheries unusually productive. In many districts the existing industries have been enlarged, new enterprises have been actively furnishing fresh avenues for commerce and additional employment for our people, while every day new sections of country are being opened to the labora of the husbandman. The trade and wealth of the Dominion are on the increase, and the equal administration of the laws maintains, as heretofore, the enjoyment of a general sense of security. I have watched with much anxiety the course of events in the North-West Territories. Unfortunate misapprehensions of the intentions with which the country was sought to be acquired by Canada have led to complications of a grave character. With a view to their removal I have thought it desirable to exhaust every means of conciliation before adopting other measures, and the latest advices lead me to expect that the groundless alarms entertained by a portion of the linhabitants have given place to a desire to listen to explanations, which I have caused to be made to them. other measures, and the latest advices lead me to expect that the groundless alarms entertained by a portion of the inhabitants have given place to a desire to listen to explanations, which I have caused to be made to them. The efforts made, in the spirit of which has animated my Government throughout, can scarcely fail to accomplish an equitable and peaceful solution of the existing difficulties, and thereby secure a speedy incorporation of the North-West Territories with Canada, an object so carnestly desired for the Empire and the Dominion. The act for the temporary government of the Territories, when united with Canada, will expire at the close of the present session. A measure providing for their Government will be submitted for your consideration. The charters of most of the banks of the Dominion were last session extendada for a limited period, with the view that during the interval the question of banking and currancy should receive the consideration which their importance demands. A measure intended to insure safety to the community, without interfering with the legitimate operations of the banks, will be submitted for your consideration, and will, I trust, be found calculated to place those important interest upon a sound and stable basis. The laws in force on the subject of the elective franchise and the regulation of Parliamentary elections in the several provinces of the Dominion vary much in their operations, and it is important that uniform provisions should be made settling franchise and regulating elections to the House of Commons. A measure upon this subject will be submitted for your consideration. ions. A measure upon this subjec be made settling franchise and regulating elections to the House of Commons. A measure upon this subject will be submitted for your consideration.

Under the operation of an act of the Imperial Parliament, passed in the year 1899, to amend the laws relating to the coasting trade and merchant shipping in the British possessions, a period of two years is given to the Legislatures of the several colonies of the Empire to make provisions for the regulation of their coasting trade. In the absence of legislation on the subject within the period named, the provisions of the Imperial law will be in force. The extent of our internal commerce renders legislation on this subject desirable, and a measure with regard to it will be submitted for your consideration.

The creation of the Court of Appeals, under the powers conferred upon you by the Union act, is a matter deserving your attention. A measure will be submitted to you for the establishment of such a Court, and for conferring upon it certain original jurisdictions. The year 1871 is that in which the next decennial census is fixed by law to take place. As there are different laws on the subject in the several provinces, it will be necessary to pass a general act to establish a uniform and accurate system throughout the Dominion. Steps have already been taken to secure the cooperation of New-Foundland and Prince Edward Island, and I trust a census upon one system will be made simultaneously in all Her Majesty's British North American possessions. I need not expatiate on the impertance of the information which the tables of the census are calculated to offer, in addition to their interest and value on general grounds. It must be recollected that upon them depends readjustment of Parliamentary representation.

I have directed that the accounts of last year shall be

I have directed that the accounts of last year shall be laid before you. Estimates for the present financial year

I have directed that the accounts of last year shall be faid before you. Estimates for the present financial year will also be submitted. They have been framed with every regard to economy compatible with the efficiency of the public services; and you will, I trust, be of the opinion that the finances are in a satisfactory state, and that the people can, without inconvenience, afford for the service of Her Majesty the supplies which it will be the duty of my Government to ask you to vote.

The act respecting the militia and the defense of the Dominion, has not failed to engage my attention. The high spirit and loyalty of the people are placed in a more clear light by the fact that the active militia have voluntarily come forward, largely in excess of the quota required, as well as by the zealous attendance of the various corps at the annual trainings in camps, and by the promptness with which they assembled in force at the call of duty on more than one occasion when the Fenlan maranders threatened the peace of the country. I have observed with great satisfaction the efforts which have been made in several of the provinces of the Dominion to foster and encourage immigration to our shores. The continued progress of great public works in many portions of the country, will afford an opportunity of early employment to intending immigrants, and I look forward with confidence to the addition of a large and valuable class of settlers to our population during the coming season. During the Summer and Autumn I had the opportunity of visiting different parts of the Dominion. I proceeded first to Quebec; thence to the maritime Provinces, and at Halifax I had the honor of receiving His Royal Highness, Prince Arthur. Subsequently I attended His Royal Highness in a tour through the Province of Ontario. Everywhere the great capabilities of the country, and proofs of vigorous industry, made themselves apparent; and it became my pleasing duty to report to the Majesty's G

A SETTLEMENT OF THE RED RIVER TROUBLES IN PROSPECT.

From The New Nation of the 28th we extract the following species of Mr. Riel and the Canadian Commissioner, Mr. Donaid Smith. Speaking before the Red River Convention, Mr. Riel said:

"This settlement has long been in a state of commotion and doubt with reference to the transfer to Canada—If I could regard Mr. Smith as in a position to concete all the rights we desire or deserve, or assure us that we would get even the most important of them, I would welcome him heartily. [Loud cheers.] But we must be firm as a rock in the defense of the rights and liberties of the people. Now that Canada begins to respect us, we are not unwilling to meet her advances and consider them fairly and justly. (Cheers.) Being now in a position to obtain our rights, we heartily welcome Mr. Smith in this country." [Cheers.] Smith said—"As Canadian Commissioners I will

Mr. Smith said—"As Canadian Commissioners I will gladly give you all the information I can. Canada is disposed to respect the people of this country, and desirous of according them every privilege enjoyed by any Province of the Dominion, and all the rights of British subjects enjoyed in any pertion of the Dominion. I shall answer any questions asked me, and after ascertaining the desires of the Convention, will point out, as far as I can, how far Canada will accede to them." (Theors.)

It was finally reserved by the Convention "that a Committee Composed of three English and three Franch meet

Through all admiration, of an observant world. these years," remarks Mrs. H. B. Stanton, "Miss Anthony was the connecting link between me and the outer world—the reform scout who went to see what was going on in the enemy's camp, and returning with maps and observations to plan the mode of attack.

* Whenever we saw a work to be done, we would together forge our thunderbolts in the form of resolutions, petitions, appeals, and speeches on every subject-uniformly accepting every invitation to go everywhere and at everything." It has been intimated that Miss A. has not remained sweet Dian's notary (vote-ry f) in maiden meditation fancy free, because nobody asked her to change her name and station. Many victims, we are told, are carrying crushed humored woman toward the whole male sex. Miss Anthony's birthday was celebrated last evening, at the Woman's Bureau, formally, brilliantly, and picturesquely. The parlors were crowded by groups of earnest friends, who came prepared to testify, poetically and substantially, their appreciation of Miss A.'s character and actions. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sewall of Boston, the were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sewall of Boston, the queenly sculptor, Mrs. Ames, Mrs. Isabella B. Hooker, Junius Henri Browne, Miss Gilbert, Dr. Orsina Fowler Smith, Mrs. Dr. Lozier, the philanthopic; Mrs. Longdon, and Mrs. Anna T. Randall. Mrs. Phelps assisted Miss Anthony in receiving her guests with graceful cordiality. Miss A. was attired in a preity silk frock presented by Miss Anna E. Dickinson, and seemed both touched and pleased by the congratulations of her friends.

Numerous substantial gifs in the shape of checks, etc., attested the sincerity of these expressions.

Mrs. Hooker read a few lines addressed to Miss A. by her husband, who styles the subject of his pen, "the maiden Mars." Said Miss Susan, smiling pleasantly, "I suppose you expect me to blush now." "Oh, no," said Mrs. Hooker, "the reporters will take care of that."

The following verse came from the lips of the versatile Mrs. Bronson:

Mrs. Burton E. Hartford sent a little poem in which Miss Anthony is spoken of as "A glorious beacon to Luberty's cause." Mrs. Randail read "The Bells" with grace and power, and Mrs. Ames recited "The Rayen" with all her usual sparkle and intensity.

Miss Lily Peckham sout this telegram:

"Wroning and Utah are once-Wisconsin will soon be. Congratulations and greetings to the heroine of the hour, Stass B. Anthony."

"The heroine," moved to speech by so much kindly enthusiasm, attempted to return thanks—with accompaniments. If it was an assembled mob, she said, or a convention which declared that women should not vote she would know what to say. She never made a speech except to get people to work. As soon as cultivated women came up, and were ready to do the speaking, she would stand one side. Her work was the subsoil plowing: theirs the fancy gardening. She had women before her who were used to sing. 125, speaking. In reading in public. She was glad to say that public sentiment demanded woman suffrage, and women vere more acceptable on the platform than men. She was dumb, but still she asked them to work. While it was the proposition of the friends of suffrags that women sheuld go down among John Morrissey's constituents and ask for their votes, she wanted them to Join in and demand the XVIth Amendment, and go before the Legislatures of the different States to secure its ratification, and when the Secretary of State shall proclaim that 28 States have ratified that Amendment, then she would stop work, and not before. She added a few congratulatory remarks upon the recent action by Utah and Colorado in regard woman Suffrage.

A dainty lunch concluded the affair, and her guests left Miss A. to remember that she had a twinge of pain—hand-shaking, not rhounatism—in her right arm, and various comfortable little documents with figures attached reposing in her desk. Miss Lily Peckham sent this telegram :

BROOKLYN WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Brooklyn Woman's Club held its first formal reception last evening, at the residence of one of its members. A large number of members and their friends were present, and a pleasant geniality prevailed. An essay upon "Literature in a Republic" was given by Col. G. W. Higginson. It was delivered in a pleasant, conversational tone, was attentively heard, and generously applauded. This reception inaugurates a series of similar ones, all of which, it is to be hoped will be as enjoyable as was this. Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain of The World, R. H. Stoddard and wife, Mrs. Theodore Tilden, Louise Chandler Moulton, Mrs. Gildersleeve Longstreet, and Mrs. John T. Sargent of Boston.

MUSIC.

A Concert for the benefit of the Sunday school connected with the Church of St. John the Evan-gelist will be given at the Hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, this evening, under the direction of Mr. Louis C. Jacoby. Madam Anna Bishop and Miss Char lotte V. Hutchings will sing, and Mr. Morgan will preside at the organ.

THE FREEMASONS AT THE ACADEMY. City Lodge No. 408 F. and A. M. held a grand ball in aid of distressed Master-Masons in Cuba at the Academy of Music last evening. It was expected that a crowd would be in attendance, but the driving rain sadis disappointed the hopes of the Committee. There were about 100 couples on the floor, and perhaps 500 ladies and gentlemen scattered through the house. The Academy was in its brightest trim, and the arrangements may be pronounced perfect.

In the background of the stage, and glittering in relief

In the background of the stage, and glittering in relief before a beautiful landscape curtain, appeared in letters formed by gas jets "City Lodge No. 408, F. and A. M." Suspended directly over the stage were four chandeliers. About 10 o'clock the guests began to arrive, and two hours later the polished and brilliant floor of the ball-room presented an animated appearance. The mysterious knights of Lodge No. 60s appeared without their rich and haudsome regalia, and joined hands with their fair partners in the most fraternal mainer. Among the prominent persons present were Police Commissioner Matthew T. Brennan, Most Worshipfal Master, J. W. Woodraff, Past Grand Most Worshipfal Master, J. W. Woodraff, Past Grand Most Worshipfal Master, J. W. Woodraff, Past Grand Most Worshipfal Master, J. W. Dones, the Hon. Cassus M. Clay, and a considerable number of Cubans, among them Schors T S. Macass, M. Frugallo, L. Delmonte, M. Puentes, Mr. Mayorga, and the Misses Eddy and Ester. These bands, under the direction of Mr. W. Keating, W.

J. O'Brien, and J. Mallach, supplied the music, which was of a superior order. The several Committees perwas of a superior order. The several Committees per-formed their duties in a most acceptable manner, and in-cluded the names of Mesers. C. H. Bass, C. D. White, and

GENERAL NOTES.

A correspondent calls attention to a spot on the sun so large that it can be plainly seen through a piece of smoked glass. It was first observed on the 6th

A Philadelphia newspaper is very fortunate in its "poetess"—a lady who becomes an absolute Sappho in an ode considerably longer than any of Sappho's in an ode considerably longer than any of Sappho' which have come down to us, and which reminds us of Anacreon's "Ode to a Painter." The subject is Fagman's "Muses;" and we hasten to guote: "Uranias wrapped in cogitation Sublimest; she's Miss Bodget, a jeine Demotselle from Boston; and Cho is Mrs. Johnson: Thalia, you know; I said her name was Sorythe, Erato, from land of marriage and potato, is Kitty Sullivan. Next you see, The tragle muse, Melpomene, Polyhymma's Miss Barlow. See, Fair Wadsworth is Calliope," &c., &c., &c., Pleasant it must be for these ladies to be thus celebrated nomiriatim.

Mr. Ignatius Donnelly of Minnesota is parently, as we supposed, the sport of circumstances. According to a letter of Mr. Geo. Alfred Townsend's in According to a letter of Mr. Geo. Alfred Townsend's in The Chicago Tribune intelf a Free Trade journal), Mr. Donnelly's free trade views are the result of purely personal and local considerations. Of the vaciliating ex-Congressman Mr. Townsend relates this characteristic incident: "Donnelly, as you know, with a good nostril for a high wind, has become a free trader, and means to nae his vicorous elocution on the stump." I am told that Morrell)one of his former colleagues from Pennsylvania I would be a tariff man yet; but it won't do in the North-West.' This reply served the purposes of the Morrell party, and they now urge that Donnelly is no convert to principle, but to geography. This was a poor reply for Mr. Donnelly." With this explanation of Mr. Donnelly's conversion, the honesty and value of his free trade principles can be very accurately gauged.

In one of his Washington letters, Mr. Geo. Alfred Townsend says: "Senator Abbott, who lately challenged Senator Sprague to fight a duel, and beat challenged Senator Sprague to fight a duel, and beat a retreat from his own echoes," and "is now in the percendicular position asking for a National police force to keep order in the South," that "this is another instance of a man taking counsel of his fears, retiring ingioriously from a duel to think each bush an officer; and awearing out a warrant against mankind, who lately undertook to whip half the State of Rhode Island. Bashfulness, thy name is Abbott! Let this case be a warning to young men led beyond their depth in the morasses of effrontery; for there can be no reason whatever distinguishable for the introduction of a bill like this, unless Mr. Abbott can explain it in the words of Macbeth, who, foolishly supposing he beholds the deceased Mr. Banquo, exclaims:

"Bout muse at we, sy most worthy friends;
I have a strage infinity which is nothing
"To those that know me."

Mr. Townsend very appropriately suggests that "Sprague and Abbott be joint Commissioners over this police, with headquarters at Bladensburg."

A new Cooperative Brass and Iron Foundery A new Coöperative Brass and Iron Foundery is being built in Greenpoint, which it is expected will be in readiness for active operations in about two weeks. The enterprise originated with four persons employed in one of the largest fron founderies in this city, all of whom are members of Iron Moulders' Union No. 25, and each of whom put into the concern $1,500, making a working capital of $6,000. Additional members will be admitted as soon as the shop is placed in complete working order. The establishment will be known as the Excelsoir Iron and Brass Foundery. A new Coöperative Foundery is also to be opened in this city. Thirty-five members have already joined this last-mentioned association. The shares are placed at $100 each, to be paid in weekly installments.

U. L. CLUB RECEPTION THIS EVENING. The Ladies' Annual Reception of the Union League Club takes place this evening, and promises to be one of the most brilliant social gatherings of the season. Invitations have been sent to President Grant and members of the Cabinet, to Gen. Sherman, Admiral Farragut, Lieut.-Gen. Sheridan, Gen. McDowell, and other distinguished officers, several of whom are expected to be present. Mr. Jackson S. Schultz, the President of the Club, will receive the guests in the Grand Saloon at 9 o'clock. The minor arrangements for the reception are already completed, but in order to avoid embarrassment at the last moment, the Committee hope that members will procure their tickets early in the day.
